Homelessness

Housing Precarity in Toronto

15,400+

In the City of Toronto, there are over 15,400 individuals experiencing homelessness on any given night.

This is up 25% from 2024.

10,000

The approximate number of shelter beds in the City's available shelters. Shelters in Toronto operate at over 99% capacity, and hundreds of people each month are turned away due to lack of space.

104,904

Total number of active applications on for centralized waiting list for subsidized housing administered by the City of Toronto.

Subsidized housing (in this context) includes rentals and supplements available through the Toronto Community Housing Corporation, Toronto Seniors Housing and Co-Op/PNP/Rent Supplement.

More than one-third of active applicants are seniors.

THE SOLUTION

OUR MISSION

Homes First develops and provides affordable stable housing and support services to break the cycle of homelessness for those with the fewest housing options.

WHO WE ARE

Homes First provides supportive housing, emergency shelter and wrap-around support services to over 2,500 of the city's most vulnerable people every day, including seniors, families, and those with complex physical, psychiatric and substance use challenges.

WHY WE DO IT

Simply put, everyone needs a home.

Every night there are over 15,400 individuals in the City of Toronto without a safe, stable place to live.

The skyrocketing cost of living has also exacerbated the ongoing and intersecting housing, mental health and opiate crises, making stabilization that much harder to achieve. Homes First works to break the cycle of homelessness for the people with the fewest housing options.

THE SOLUTION

The Homefull Commitment

No one who calls Toronto home should live without one.

We refuse to accept homelessness as inevitable.

We believe in a Homefull Toronto. A city where homelessness is history, where everyone has access to the transforming power of home and the most vulnerable have the support necessary to flourish, because...

You can be sheltered but hungry, safe but alone, housed but unhealthy, that's not homefull.

This is your invitation to reject the status quo, redefine expectations, confront stereotypes, and commit to building a Homefull Toronto together.

This is more than wishful thinking. Homelessness is not an insurmountable challenge. Solutions exist.

We know the way forward. All that's left is the collective compassionate commitment of a unified community to make this our reality.

For over 40 years, Homes First has provided shelter, housing, support, and community for Toronto's most vulnerable people.

We're more than a charity; we're a catalyst for change.

We're committed to a Homefull Toronto. But we can't get there without you.

If you believe Toronto should be Homefull, make this your commitment too.

THE SOLUTION

The Homefull Commitment in ACTION

766

The number of individuals Homes First supported in finding housing in 2025

25%

Homes First currently operates just over 25% of all active shelter beds in the City of Toronto.

As a part of the city's 10-year Homelessness Services Capital Infrastructure Strategy, at least 20 emergency shelters are slated to open in the coming years.

1,400

The number of unique clients supported by Homes First's Intensive Case Management (ICM) teams in 2025

There was a 19% increase in our ICM caseload of clients experiencing chronic homelessness (being without a home for six months or more) between 2024 to 2025

131

The number of unique clients supported by Homes First's Follow-Up Team to maintain their newly acquired permanent housing in 2025

Change

Lynn – Homes First Resident

Change can be easy or difficult.

It's the way you look at it.

Some people may see someone searching for herself.

Or someone who can't stand being the same.

But it doesn't matter

the only person

I have to please is myself.

I wasn't always this comfortable with who I am.

That comes with growing and becoming

who you want to be.

I want to be as good as possible.

First to myself
and those around me.

I want to help those who are struggling

or lead them

to the resources they need

Change is beautiful.

And so are you and me.

So grow.

Change.

Inspire one another.

EPILOGUE

---

No one who calls Toronto home should live without one. For more than 40 years, Homes First has walked beside individuals whose stories have been shaped by homelessness—each one different, each one deeply human.

Stories of struggle.

Stories of resilience.

Stories of people finding the strength to begin again.

Every day, new pages are written.

A key placed into someone's hand.

A door that finally closes behind them in safety.

A warm meal shared in community.

A moment of relief after months, sometimes years, of uncertainty.

These moments may seem small.

But they are the moments where hope begins.

Across Toronto, there are still thousands of stories waiting for their next chapter to begin—stories that deserve stability, dignity, and the chance to rebuild.

Because a home is more than four walls.

It is safety.

It is belonging.

It is the foundation for everything that comes next.

The next chapter of this story is still being written.

And like every meaningful story, it cannot be written alone.

It is written by people who believe that compassion should shape our city. By a community willing to turn the page and imagine something better. Together, we can write the next chapter.

A Homefull Toronto.

One chapter at a time.
